October 21, 2019

I do regret not to be present for this 25th anniversary, because of some personal issues.

IBSSA France is developing slowly but steadily its activities. No major event this year.

IBSSA is a non-profit organization, led by ethically engaged persons, aiming at teaching technics, sharing experience, and promoting values.

Our societies do not need more violence and greed; they need professionalism, wisdom and kindness. Beside the planned work in the professional field of security, our societies do need more organizations and individuals engaged in favor of the security and protection of those in need, ready to act and react when and where it's necessary, with good heart and determination.

It is with this understanding that IBSSA France will continue its activities.

I do wish you all a fruitful event.

Ronan Chatellier
Président of IBSSA France
